Message from our Pastor:

Remember what I said in my homily! If you want to feel Christmas and experience it like you may never have before, then go to confession to prepare your heart.

We have confessions after every Mass this weekend! Only a couple days left for the coming of our Savior!!!

News & Announcements:

THANK YOU - I wanted to a huge and very sincere thank you to a few groups of folks who have really stepped up lately to sacrifice and work for our parish. First, I want to say a big thank you to Katie Goodloe and all the wonderful musicians who put in all the time and effort to make for a beautiful Christmas concert this year. It was lovely and their dedication to perform in spite of the bad weather was awesome. I really enjoyed the event. Thank you! Second, I want to say a big thank you to all the folks who came to St Patrick last Saturday to make our parish so clean and beautiful. I am always amazed to see the great level of dedication and personal care that our parishioners here show for the parish. Thank you for treating this parish like your own home. It is well cared for. Third, thank you to all who worked for making the Appalachia gift program work so well and who put in the work to organize our Christmas breakfast. These programs really set us up and help prepare the parish for the coming Christmas season. So, thank you for your sacrifice. Fourthly, thank you to all who make the environment so beautiful in our parish, with decorations, flowers and all the setup that goes into making the Church ready for the coming of our Savior. He is worthy of it and I grateful for your service to Him! Finally, to everyone else who helps make St Patrick a wonderful parish, lectors, greeters, volunteers, and many many others who I am unfortunately failing to mention, thank you very very much. God sees your efforts and I know He is pleased with all your hard work. Thank you, thank you, thank you!!! Fr Rossi
