THE PASTOR'S WEEKLY REFLECTION/ REFLEXIÓN SEMANAL DEL PÁRROCO

As we advance toward the end of the Easter Season, we have a unique opportunity to reflect upon the graces extended to us by the Holy Spirit. In the Gospel, the Lord reminds us that He brings a “peace” that is substantially different than the “peace” the world brings. The text is: Εἰρήνην ἀφίημι ὑμῖν . In the Latin Vulgate, it is rendered: Pacem relinquo vobis. In the current translation authorized for Mass in the United States: Peace I leave with you.

At first glance, it sounds like the Lord is “leaving” a gift for us on the table that we are invited to pick up. Instead, he is issuing forth a gift that terror and anxiety may be kept at bay, upon his departure. He wants His disciples to remain in His Heart, which is the Heart of the Father.

If we peer into the text a bit, we get the following: Peace, or shalom, is a usual greeting that is expanded by the Lord in the intimacy of the Upper Room. It implies prosperity, health of soul, serenity, and farewell. It is sent forth from the Lord to those the Lord is leaving behind, so that He might return to the Father, toward whom He is drawing those who wish to follow Him.

Because you and I share in His Heart, through the theological gifts of faith, hope, and love, by way of Baptism, we are then expected to extend the same gift of peace upon others. While it might be strange to start saying: “peace be with you, and with your spirit,” as a common greeting to one another, we should at least consider making a sincere spiritual intention to desire to convey the Lord’s gift of peace to one another. We might express it in our own hearts toward those we meet: “I desire that you remain in the Heart of the Father, free from anxiety and fear.”

Please be assured of my prayers this week.

Al acercarnos al final del Tiempo Pascual, tenemos una oportunidad única para reflexionar sobre las gracias que nos concede el Espíritu Santo. En el Evangelio, el Señor nos recuerda que Él trae una “paz” sustancialmente diferente a la “paz” que nos brinda el mundo. El texto es: Εἰρήνην ἀφίημι ὑμῖν. En la Vulgata Latina, se traduce: Pacem relinquo vobis. En la traducción actual autorizada para la Misa en Estados Unidos: “La paz les dejo”.

A primera vista, parece que el Señor nos está “dejando” un regalo sobre la mesa, que se nos invita a recoger. En cambio, nos está otorgando un regalo para que, tras su partida, el terror y la ansiedad se mantengan a raya. Quiere que sus discípulos permanezcan en su Corazón, que es el Corazón del Padre.

Si analizamos un poco el texto, encontramos lo siguiente: Paz, o shalom, es un saludo habitual que el Señor extiende en la intimidad del Cenáculo. Implica prosperidad, salud del alma, serenidad y despedida. Es enviado por el Señor a quienes deja atrás, para que pueda regresar al Padre, hacia quien atrae a quienes desean seguirlo.

Como ustedes y yo compartimos su Corazón, a través de los dones teológicos de fe, esperanza y amor, mediante el Bautismo, se espera que extendamos el mismo don de paz a los demás. Aunque pueda resultar extraño comenzar diciendo: «La paz sea contigo y con tu espíritu» como un saludo común, al menos deberíamos considerar hacer una sincera intención espiritual de desear transmitirnos mutuamente el don de paz del Señor. Podríamos expresarlo en nuestro corazón a quienes nos encontramos: «Deseo que permanezcan en el Corazón del Padre, libres de ansiedad y temor».

Les aseguro que contaré con mis oraciones esta semana.
